THE LARGEST CROWD

Of the Season at the Park Yesterday, the Occasion of

THE GROCERS' ANNUAL PICNIC.

Thirty-five Hundred People Passed Through the Gates—A Pleading Programme Was Carried Out Without a Hitch—Two Heavyweights Run a Foot Race—The Weather Was Ideal for Picnicking.

In Wheeling Grocers' Day has come to be one of the most observed days of the year. For several weeks preparations have been going on at a lively rate, and the promoters promised that this year's observance would knock out all previous records. It can be said without exaggeration that they succeeded. The weather yesterday was ideal for picnicking, and thirty-five hundred people took advantage of the attractions extraordinary at the park to spend the day there. The attendance was the largest of the year at the park, the best previous day having been Decoration Day, when about twenty-five hundred people passed through the gates. It is probable that only one day this season will knock out the record for attendance, made yesterday by the Grocers' picnic, and that is the coming Columbian Fourth, when Colonel Rolf expects the turnstiles to click to the merry count of ten thousand.

As is usual on Grocers' Day, all of the retail groceries were closed throughout the day, and the wholesale and commission houses shut their doors at noon, so that proprietors and clerks alike could take advantage of the occasion and spend a day in the country, accompanied by wife, sweetheart or sister. A feature of the attendance at the park was the predominance of the gentler sex, the ladies and young girls by far outnumbering the men.

THE FESTIVITIES

started at 9 a. m. with a street parade, under the command of Chief Marshal C. K. Smith. There was quite a number of men in line, who, with white vests, white ties, cane, badge and boutonnieres, made a very presentable appearance. The route of the parade was as follows: Formation at Twelfth and Chapline; down Chapline to Fourteenth, to Market, to Eleventh, to Main, to Twenty-second, to Market, to Sixteenth, to Elm Grove motor station, public building square.

The morning trains on the Elm Grove road carried hundreds of people out to the park, and if possible even more went out in the afternoon so that by 4 o'clock there were over three thousand people there. The arrangements for the accommodation of the great crowd were admirable, and there was not the slightest friction or inconvenience to anyone during the entire day.

In addition to the amusements provided by the park management, others of great attractiveness were arranged by the grocers' committees, including wheelbarrow races, sack races, potato races for ladies and gentlemen, fat men's foot race, etc. There was hardly a moment during the afternoon when there wasn't something going on. The dancing in the pavilion was continued with few interruptions during the afternoon and evening, the excessive heat not seeming to dampen the order of the disciples of Terpsichore. The bowling alleys were seldom unpatronized, and it developed that in the grocers' ranks there are some top-notchers in bowling.

The funniest event of the day was a sixty-yard dash foot race between Charles Klein and H. E. Ashbaugh. The latter weighs in the neighborhood of 225 pounds, and Klein probably tips the scales at more than that. Both are proud of their sprinting abilities, and their mutual friends steered them into a match for $5 a side. Klein held out for a handicap, and Ashbaugh gave him five yards. The race took place on Midway pleasure, and was witnessed by several hundred people. After several ineffectual starts, the two got away within two or three seconds of the same time. Klein developed unexpected speed and was never headed by his opponent, who finished ten feet in the rear. There was a discrepancy as to the time made. One timer said it was done in six seconds, another was positive it was over fifteen seconds, however, not even the heavy weight record was broken.

The 150-yard dash between George O'Brien, Charles O'Brien, Gus Majer and Charles Montgomery was really a first-class and exciting contest. All four got away beautifully in a bunch, and at the finish they were still together in the following order: First, Charles O'Brien; second, George O'Brien; third, Montgomery; fourth, Majer. Time 18 seconds.

Young Sheets won both the sack and potato races with ease.

The 100-yard foot race was won by Charles O'Brien, with Gus Majer second. The time was 12 seconds.

The croquet game for a prize croquet set was won by Charles Gilligan, who played a beautiful game.

The crowd was if anything larger than during any other part of the day at supper time. Supper was served at the park restaurant, and numbers of people supped picnic fashion on the grounds.

At 6:30 the grand promenade, headed by the Opera House band, started around the mound. This was a very pretty sight, hundreds taking part in it. After this the band gave a concert, and at 8:30 the festivities ended.

DIED. GRAHAM—On Wednesday, June 14, 1893, at 11:20 o'clock, Mrs. ELIZA GRAHAM, in the 84th year of her age. Funeral from her late residence, 1408 Chapline street, Friday, June 16, at 2:30 o'clock p. m.

The wrong way, with Catarrh, is to stop it without curing it. The poisonous, irritating snuffs, strong caustic solutions, "creams," balms and the like may, perhaps, palliate for a time. But they may drive the disease to the lungs. The right way is a proved one. It's with Dr. Sego's Catarrh Remedy. It cures, permanently, by its mild, soothing, cleansing and healing properties, the worst cases of Chronic Catarrh. It has proved itself right, thousands of times, when everything else has failed. And this makes its proprietors willing to prove that it's the right thing for you, no matter how bad your case or of how long standing. If they can't cure your Catarrh, they'll pay you $500 in cash. They mean it. They're certain of their medicine. They pay only for the good you get.

STAR CLOTHING HOUSE—D. GUNDLING & CO.

DO YOU KNOW HOW TO GET RICH?

It doesn't depend on your salary; it makes no difference how much you make. It depends entirely on how much you save. There's the rub, how to save. We are giving an object lesson in that particular branch of domestic economy just now. You can take your pencil and figure the saving. It's the difference in the value and the price, a simple example of subtraction. Economical mothers, who never have brought their boys to GUNDLING'S don't know what economy really is. When quality is a unit and price a fraction there's no need of glittering word painting for provident mothers. This is one way of getting rich.
